THE LIBRARY JOURNAL

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LIBRARY ASSOCIATIONS OF AMERICA AND THE UNITED KINGDOM.

Established and sustained by the co-operative efforts of the leading librarians on both sides of the Atlantic, this international JOURNAL aims to elevate the profession to the highest standard, and at the same time to effect a saving by enabling library work to be done in the best way, at the lowest cost.

Under its new management (Mr. C. A. CUTTER, General Editor, F. LEYPOLDT, Publisher), the only objections brought against the LIBRARY JOURNAL have been removed:

1. By confining it strictly to practical library matters with a special view to the wants of small libraries.
2. By reducing the subscription price to $3 per year, thus bringing it within the means of all.

The LIBRARY JOURNAL, among its new features, gives regularly a carefully compiled Library Purchase List, with notes of commendation or caution, on the leading new books of the month.

It also gives occasional lists of books examined and approved by the reading committees of responsible bodies.

It continues the practical Reference Lists on special topics prepared by Mr. W. E. FOSTER. (The latest lists, for instance, comprise GEORGE ELIOT, CARLYLE, ALEXANDER II. AND NIHILISM, RUSKIN, Sir W. HAMILTON, etc. The August number contains a full bibliography of the Pre-Columbian Discoveries of America, by P. B. Watson.)

It also continues the departments of Anonyms and Pseudonyms, and Notes and Queries.

Its Bibliographical department, while more restrictive in its mere title-record, gives more space to the substance of library literature, by compendious notes and extracts from library catalogues, library reports, etc.

It aims to give librarians, trustees, and committees the benefit of the experience of the best managed libraries.

Its new, handy form, and its compact ready-reference material, make it an indispensable desk-companion for every librarian.

Sample copies of the LIBRARY JOURNAL sent free, on application.

NOTES IN SEASON.

R. WORTHINGTON will have ready September 1, "Chatterbox Junior," a volume of original stories by Miss Alcott, Joshua Kendell, Miss Pollard and others.

HARPER & BROS. have just turned the second hundred in their Franklin Square Library in the publication, as No. 201 of the series, of "The Black Speck," a temperance tale, by F. W. Robinson.

THIS week's volume in the Leisure Hour Series of Henry Holt & Co. is entitled "One of Three," by Jessie Fothergill, author of "The First Violin." The new volume also contains another of Miss Fothergill's novelettes, "Made or Marred."

ROBT. CARTER & BROS. will issue September 15 "The Incarnate Saviour;" a life of Christ by Rev. W. R. Nicoll, of which the Independent says that "its simplicity, attractiveness, and spiritual richness make it an excellent volume for church or Sunday-school libraries.

A. S. BARNES & Co. have now ready "Points in History," a unique and interesting attempt to compress the salient points of the history of the world within less than two thousand brief questions and answers. It is written by Dr. John Lord, author of "Modern History," "The Old Roman World," etc., and well known as a popular historical lecturer.

LEE & SHEPARD publish this week Part I of "New England Bird-Life," a manual of New England Ornithology, revised and edited from the manuscript of Winfrid A. Stearns by Dr. Elliott Coues. The present volume, devoted to the large order Oscines, is issued in advance as part first, to be followed by another volume, completing the treatise as soon as possible. The book will undoubtedly take a first place among the works descriptive of the birds of New England.

HARPER BROS. publish this week Westcott's & Hort's Greek New Testament, which the Saturday Review pronounces "probably the most important contribution to Biblical learning in our generation." It is formed exclusively on documentary evidence. The introduction to the American edition is by Dr. Schaff. A handsome octavo edition of the Revised Version of the New Testament is now ready, as is also the "Franklin Square Song Collection," containing 200 pieces, words and music, consisting of ballads, hymns, patriotic songs, carols, and children's melodies.

GINN, HEATH & Co. will publish, August 31, "Answers to Problems in Wentworth's Elementary Algebra," by Prof. G. A. Wentworth, and four additional volumes in the series of Hudson's School Edition of Shakespeare, viz.: "Antony and Cleopatra," "Othello," "Cymbeline," and "Coriolanus." These volumes complete the series, which now comprises twenty-three volumes in all. September 5, they will have ready "An Elementary Treatise on the Integral Calculus," by Prof. W. E. Byerly, Ph.D., of Harvard, and "The Germania of Tacitus," edited by Prof. W. F. Allen, of the University of Wisconsin. September 20, they will publish the nineteenth and twentieth volumes of Hudson's Harvard Edition of Shakespeare, completing the series.

D. APPLETON & Co. have nearly ready a book which is likely to command a large sale—"The Wit and Wisdom of Benjamin Disraeli, K. G., Earl of Beaconsfield," collected from his writings and speeches, of which the London Daily News says, "the title for once is not a misnomer, and political opponents, as well as political friends, will probably admit, that few volumes have been published for the last half-century which contain so much wit." Another timely book in the "New Handy Volume Series," will be "Ralph Waldo Emerson; Poet and Philosopher," by A. H. Guernsey. Two strong novels, "Wild Work," the story of the Red River tragedy, by Mary E. Bryan, author of "Manch," and "The Bloody Chasm," by J. W. De Forest, author of "Overland," are nearly ready.

FORDS, HOWARD, & HULBERT will issue Sept. 1, the second edition of the "American Version of the Revised New Testament," mention of which has already been made in these columns. It has been subjected to the severest scrutiny by Dr. Hitchcock, the editor, with a view to making it irreproachably accurate—a distinction thus far enjoyed only by the special "presentation edition" of the English issue. All errors discoverable have been corrected, and very complete and elaborate appendices have been added, giving much information concerning the difference between the English and American readings and renderings. The three months of hard work devoted by Dr. Hitchcock to this labor will make the book, so its publishers claim, the Standard American Version. Early in September, "Shakespeare for the Young Folk," edited by Prof. Robt. R. Raymond, on an entirely new plan—combining the narrative form with the Shakespeare text—will be ready in handsomely illustrated form, as also the long-expected novel of Mormon life, "The Fate of Madame La Tour." This book, which is a searching arraignment of Mormonism, will be uniform in style with "A Fool's Errand," and will undoubtedly reach a large sale.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

In this list, the titles in brevier are direct transcriptions from books actually received, according to the rule of the American Library Association; those in nonpareil are from the best information available, and will be repeated in brevier when the book is received for registry.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights. Where figure instead of letter symbols are used, the record is from publisher's designation, and not measurement.

Imported books are marked with an asterisk; authors' and subscription books, or books published at net prices, with two asterisks; educational books published at "wholesale" prices, with a dagger.

Belot, Adolphe. The king of the gamblers; from the French by Miss S. Lee. N. Y., G. Munro, 1881. 55 p. Q. (Seaside lib., no. 1057.) pap., 20 c.

A novel of crime and adventure; the scene laid in Paris.

Benedikt, Moriz. Anatomical studies upon the brains of criminals: contribution to anthropology, medicine, jurisprudence and psychology; from the German, by E. P. Fowler, M.D. N. Y., W. Wood & Co., 1881. 185 p. 8°. cl., $1.50.

Blanchard, J. Revised Odd Fellowship illustrated. Chic., Ezra A. Cook, 1881. 281 p. il. 12°. cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

Byford, W. H., M.D. The practice of medicine and surgery applied to the diseases and accidents incident to women. 3d ed., rev. and rewritten; with 164 il. Phil., Lindsay & Blakiston, 1881. 4+682 p. O. cl., $5; leath., $6.

This work, for many years an authority on the subject, has long been out of print; as now re-issued it is almost a new book; it contains not only new chapters and new subjects, but most of the old chapters and subjects re-written. Following the rapid progress of medical science for the last ten years, the author has, in many instances, expressed opinions and counselled practice that differ greatly from the teachings of the last edition. He says: "This could not be otherwise, nor do I desire that it should. Surrounded as I have been by such a throng of active workers, the results of whose labors I have tried to assimilate, my former ideas have been necessarily greatly modified, and I hope improved." Index.

Carey, Annie. School-girls; or, life at Montagu Hall. N. Y., Cassell, Petter, Galpin & Co., [1881]. 8+292 p. il. D. cl., $1.25.

A story of life at a girls' school in England; goes into full detail of the methods of discipline, girls' school trials and pleasures, temptations and rewards.

Chatard, Rev. Francis Silas. Christian truths. N. Y., Catholic Pub. Soc. Co., 1881. 300 p. 12°. cl., $1.50.

Chellis, Mary Dwinell. Harold Dorsey's fortune. Bost., Congregational Pub. Soc., [1881]. 379 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

A religious story for boys.

Crafts, Rev. W. F. Plain uses of the blackboard and slate, and other visible and verbal illustrations in the S. S. and home; [also] Illustrative teaching in the primary or infant school, by Mrs. W. F. Crafts. N. Y., Ward & Drummond, 1881. 325 p. 12°. cl., $1.25.

Craig, A., comp. Guests of the heart [poetry]; introd. by Rev. A. E. Kittredge. Chic., A. Craig & Co., 1881. 8+256 p. il. 12°. cl., $1; gilt, $2.

Eckerson, Theodore J. When my ship comes in, and other rhymes of camp and hearth. Cambridge, Riverside Press, [R. J. Eckerson, 159 High St., Bost.], 1881. 113 p. T. cl., $1.50.

The author of this collection of short poems is Major in U. S. A.; many of the pieces are reminiscences of past experiences in the army or tender records of home joys; the little book has been favorably noticed by the press, both for its literary merits and its elegant "get up." A few of the titles are: Coming over the bar; Nineteen years; Home joys and sorrows; General Taylor after Buena Vista; To my old knapsack; To the torn flag; Third U. S. Infantry; Farewell to Mexico; The parting at Fort Sumter; Decoration day; The night at Monterey, etc.

Fothergill, Jessie. One of three; [also] Made or married. N. Y., H. Holt & Co., 1881. 8+333 p. S. (Leisure hour ser., no. 129.) cl., $1.

Two novelettes by the author of "The first violin;" the first turns upon the eccentricities of a beautiful heiress, and her choice of three suitors; the second upon the wiles of a selfish, heartless woman, and her influence upon two lives.

Fuller, Andrew S. The small fruit culturist. New, rewritten and enl. ed. N. Y., Orange Judd Co., 1881. 287 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

First published in 1867; Mr. Fuller has long been the acknowledged authority on small fruits, and this volume gives every step from propagating the plant to marketing the fruit. Chapters on the barberry, strawberry, raspberry, blackberry, dwarf cherry, currant, gooseberry, Cornelian cherry, cranberry, huckleberry, shepherdia or Buffalo berry, etc. Index.

Goldsmith, Oliver. Pinnock's improved edition of Dr. Goldsmith's History of England, from the invasion of Julius Cæsar to the death of George II.; with a continuation to the year 1872, with questions for examination, by W. C. Taylor. New enl. ed. Phil., C. De Silver & Sons, 1881. 541 p. il. D. cl., $1.60.

Goodrich, A. J., comp. Music as a language; or, the meaning of musical sounds: illustrated with characteristic examples from the works of Bach, Gluck, Haydn, Mozart and others. N. Y., G. Schirmer, 1881. 4+106 p. D. bds., 75 c.

Divided into 9 pts., entitled: Elementary examples; Miscellaneous songs; Instrumental illustrations; "Messiah" and "Creation;" "Schumann album," Op. 39, 42 and 48; American songs; Program music; Beethoven's "Adelaide;" Schubert's "Erl-king;" Gounod's "Saint Cecilia mass;" Esthetical summary.

Hardy, A. S. Elements of quaternions. Bost., Ginn, Heath & Co., 1881. 240 p. 8°. cl., $2.30.

Hay, Mary Cecil. A dark inheritance, [and other stories]. N. Y., J. S. Ogilvie & Co., 1881. 30 p. Q. (People's lib., no. 57.) pap., 10 c.

Henry, M. H., M.D. Treatment of varicocele by excision of redundant scrotum; il. by new instruments, and an account of fifteen successful cases. N. Y., J. H. Vail & Co., 1881. 24 p. D. cl., 50 c.

This paper was read before the Academy of Medicine of New York, April 21, 1881; it appeared in the Medical Record May 28, 1881; it is now reprinted, by request, in permanent form.

Holyoake, G. Jacob. Among the Americans, and a stranger in America. Chic., Belford, Clarke & Co., 1881. 11-246 p. D. cl.

The author of this work is the celebrated English writer on labor and co-operation; he spent four months in this country recently investigating our ways and opinions, the result of which he frankly and freely transcribes; he met many of our prominent men and famous preachers, devoted much time to the study of "co-operative emigration," state socialism in America, etc., etc.

Keating, J. M., M.D. The mother's guide in the management and feeding of infants. Phil., H. C. Lea's Son & Co., 1881. 118 p. S. cl., $1.

This little work is divided into three parts, considering first the requirements of an infant from birth until the cutting of its first teeth, then during the period of dentition, and, finally, those of a child after its third year; the advice is explicit in statement, sensible and practical, and directed to inexperienced mothers and others having the immediate supervision of infants. Dr. K. is a well-known Phila. physician, and one who has had a large experience as lecturer on the diseases of children in the Univ. of Penn., etc., etc.

Kent, C. H. A manual for young ladies, with hints on love, courtship, marriage and the true objects of life. Davenport, Iowa, published by the author [C. H. Kent], 1881. 122 p. D. cl., $1.

The author announces this volume as supplementary to his previous work, "Kent's New commentary: a manual for young men;" it offers some shrewd suggestions, practical counsel and wholesome advice upon the subjects covered by the title; the whole being illustrated with anecdotes and poetical quotations.

Lake Superior Transit Co.'s tourist guide for 1881. New rev. ed. N. Y., E. W. Nichols, Agent, 1881. 66 p. il. and maps, T. pap.

Lord, J. Points of history; for schools and colleges. N. Y., A. S. Barnes & Co., 1881. 8+293 p. sq. D. cl., $1.25.

Contains, in the form of questions and answers, the salient points of the history of the world; will be found very useful for examinations or reviews. Author of "Modern history," "The old Roman world," etc.

Lyle, T. A. The book-keeper's companion; book-keeping simplified: the principles of posting and balancing shown at a glance by a diagram. Phil., J. G. Beidleman, [1881]. obl. O. cl., 75 c.

This work is really a chart or compendium, showing in the clearest possible manner the whole general principle of book-keeping, giving itemized directions for the proper entering of any class of accounts or any set of books; one with a very slight knowledge of book-keeping should have but little difficulty in readily understanding the principles of posting and balancing by merely looking over this chart.

Orton, Ja. Underground treasures; how and where to find them: a key for the ready determination of all the useful minerals within the U. S. New ed., with additions. Phil., H. Carey Baird & Co., 1881. 145 p. il. sq. S. cl., $1.50.

First published in 1872; the author, late professor of Natural History in Vassar College, says: "This little work was not written for mineralogists, but expressly for the landholder, the farmer, the mechanic, the miner, the laborer, even the most unscholarly. It is designed to enable such to discover for themselves minerals and ores of use in the arts, and thus develop the resources and ascertain the value of any particular form or region." Index.

Stearns, Winfrid A., and Coues, Elliott. New England bird-life: a manual of New England ornithology; revised and edited from the ms. of Winfrid A. Stearns by Dr. Elliott Coues. Pt. 1: Oscines. Bost., Lee & Shepard, 1881. 2+324 p. il. O. cl., $2.50.

The object of this work is to present, in concise and convenient form, an epitome of the bird-life of New England. This v. is devoted to the order "Oscines." In it the claims of each species to be considered a member of the New England fauna are critically examined, and not one is admitted upon insufficient evidence. The plan of the work includes brief descriptions of the birds themselves, with illustrations, enabling any one to identify any specimen he may have in hand, and also the local distribution, migrature and relative abundance of every species, etc. Also chapters on: General definitions; Preparation of specimens for study; The subject of faunal areas and a valuable bibliography of the subject (10 p.) chronologically arranged. Index of English names. Index of scientific names.

Steele, Silas S., comp. Dialogues, drawing-room plays and evening amusements: a comprehensive manual of in-door recreations. Phil., Crawford & Co., 1881. 352 p. D. cl., $1.

"Collection of charades, burlesques, proverbs, tragedies, comedies, dramas, farces, lectures, etc., carefully arranged and specially adapted to private representations; with full directions for performance; also, intellectual, active, catch and trick games, with hints and instructions relative to the manner of getting up plays, scenes, tableaux, etc."

Sunday, 1881: pictures and pages for young and old. N. Y., E. P. Dutton & Co., [1881]. 4+412 p. il. sq. O. bds., $1.25.

Bound volume of a Sunday-school juvenile periodical, issued in weekly numbers; contains stories, poems, hymns, music and "upward of 200 il. by eminent artists, a colored frontispiece and cover, in the Kate Greenaway style."

Thurber, G., ed. Silos and ensilage: the preservation of fodder-corn and other green fodder crops; the most recent information from various sources. N. Y., Orange Judd Co., 1881. 69 p. il. D. cl., 50 c.

These two terms, "Silos" and "Ensilage," have only of late years appeared in our agricultural journals—"Silos" means any underground place for preserving grain, roots, or other farm products, and "Ensilage," in American usage, means the preservation of green fodder, especially corn fodder in Silos; in this little volume, compiled by the editor of the American Agriculturist, will be found the most recent information on the subject hitherto scattered through journals and bulky volumes devoted to many other subjects.

Vaux, Calvert, and Parsons, S., jr. Concerning lawn-planting. N. Y., Orange Judd Co., 1881. 36 p. 1 il. O. pap., 25 c.

10 brief essays, entitled: Sky and sky line; My friend, the Andromeda; Nature and art in lawn-planting; Description of my door-yard in Flushing; The parks and gardens of Paris; Mr. Hudnut's terrace garden; The Central Park; Plant cabinets; How a duck-pond became a lake; A natural park at Niagara. Some of these papers appeared in the Christian Union and the New York Tribune.

A Yorktown centennial volume: contains full circumstantial reports of La Fayette's receptions in Washington, Alexandria, Mount Vernon, Yorktown, Norfolk, Richmond, etc., and his departure from U. S., with a por. photographed from his bust by Houdon in the capitol of Va.; compiled from the newspapers of the period and other sources.

Wentworth, G. A. Elements of algebra. Bost., Ginn, Heath & Co., 1881. 8+380 p. D. cl., $1.45.

"The single aim in writing this volume has been to make an algebra which the beginner would read with increasing interest, intelligence and power. The fact has been kept constantly in mind that, to accomplish this object, the several parts must be presented so distinctly that the pupil will be led to feel that he is mastering the subject."—Preface.

Wood, Mrs. H. A tale of sin, and other tales. N. Y., G: Munro, 1881. 52 p. Q. (Seaside lib., no. 1054.) pap., 10 c.

The Publishers' Weekly.

AUGUST 27, 1881.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

WE have the pleasure of presenting in this issue the introductory section of Mr Solberg's timely bibliography of Literary Property and Copyright, viz., an index to the articles which have appeared on these and kindred subjects in the nineteen volumes of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY. Many, perhaps, will be surprised at the magnitude of a literature which the earnest struggle for the rights of authors has produced, particularly during the past ten years. And it would seem that the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY has contributed as fair a mite to the good cause as can be expected from a journal of so limited a compass on this side of the Atlantic.

IN the next issue of the WEEKLY will be given an interesting account of that exemplary trade organization, the French Publishers' and Printers' Club ("Cercle de la Librairie, de l'Imprimerie et de la Papeterie"), and its second successful exhibition. This will be followed by a programme of the forthcoming international exhibition of graphic arts and book trade interests, to be held in Leipzig, in 1882, under the auspices of the leading publishing houses of Germany. For this preparations are under way which promise to make it the most representative trade exhibition ever held. It is to be hoped that the American publishers will not miss this great opportunity of entering the arena for the world's championship.

THERE still is a dearth of news in this, the dullest week of the dullest book-month. The notes of preparation, however, have already been sounded, and with September the signs of new life will be a welcome relief from the present monotony of stagnation. The issue of the WEEKLY for September 10 will be the annual Fall Announcement number, and publishers are requested to bear this fact in mind, and send in their lists of announcements in ample time for classification.

THE GOVERNMENT PUBLICATIONS.

IN accordance with the introductory remarks on the Government publications, in our last issue, we print to-day, from Kerr's "History of the Government Printing-Office," the list of the most valuable annual and other reports authorized by law or ordered by resolutions of Congress. Some reports, considered of special value and interest to the general public, now in hand to be printed for the Executive Departments, are also included.

This list is designed to give the reader information concerning forthcoming publications.

A list of the publications issued and distributed during the month of July will be given in another number of the WEEKLY, and then be followed by regular monthly lists.

[There is a law on the statute-books which permits any person to subscribe for any Government publication issued under the authority of law. It is as follows:]

"If any person desiring extra copies of any document printed at the Government Printing-Office by authority of law shall, previous to its being put to press, notify the Congressional Printer of the number of copies wanted, and shall pay to him, in advance, the estimated cost thereof, and ten per centum thereon, the Congressional Printer may, under the direction of the Joint Committee on Public Printing, furnish the same."—Sec. 3809, Rev. Stats.]

District of Columbia: Annual Report of the Commissioners. 8vo.

MEDICAL LITERATURE.

THE session of the recent International Medical Congress in London was rich in valuable papers on important medical topics. Of these none appear to have deserved or received higher praise than has been accorded to the exhaustive summary of Dr. John S. Billings, of the Surgeon-General's Office U. S. A., on "Our Medical Literature," of which the Lancet remarks editorially:

"Dr. Billings chose for the subject of his address 'Our Medical Literature,' and it was a matter of considerable speculation how he would treat it. Whether he would dwell upon the excellence of much that has passed out of sight and hardly read but by bookworms; whether he would remark on the change in style that has necessarily accompanied the advance of science; or whether possibly he might not be prepared to come forward with the statement that what deserves the name of medical literature has in the present day no real existence. But no one could have foreseen that out of the material at his disposal he would have compiled an address remarkable even among all those of the past week for its great ability, practical value, and wit. The large audience gathered to hear him was held charmed from beginning to end, both by his ever-recurring flashes of American humor and the striking nature of his facts and statistics. The enormous growth in numbers of medical writings during the last ten years, and the altered character of so many of them, were not new, but we believe he imparted considerable comfort when he was able to point out that signs are not wanting of the cessation of this increase in Europe and America. We commend his incisive remarks on the laboriousness and difficulty of 'reference' to all authors. None could have been more opportune, for unless some system can be introduced and adopted with practical uniformity, one half the world will soon be engaged in looking for the facts and opinions recorded by the other half. But most of all would we urge intending authors to ponder well Dr. Billings' four golden rules before taking pen in hand. How large a number of our books would never see the light if only their writers had first of all tried to convince themselves that they had really something to say!"

The "four golden rules" of Dr. Billings which the Lancet so warmly commends are so pertinent, not only in connection with the heading of medical articles but with all journalistic writing that we transcribe them for the benefit and enlightenment of all contributors to periodical literature:

"The editors of Transactions of Societies, whether these are sent to journals or published in separate form, often commit numerous sins of omission in the matter of titles. The rule should be that every article which is worth printing is worth a distinct title, which should be as concise as a telegram, and be printed in a special type. If the author does not furnish such a title it is the editor's business to make it; and he should not be satisfied with such headings as 'Clinical Cases,' 'Difficult Labor,' 'A Remarkable Tumor,' 'Case of Wound, with Remarks.' The four rules for the preparation of an article for a journal will then be: 1. Have something to say. 2. Say it. 3. Stop as soon as you have said it. 4. Give the paper a proper title."

The statistics of medical literature form a subject of much general interest, upon which no one is better qualified to speak than Dr. Billings himself, and we, therefore, reproduce that portion of his paper which makes a comparative exhibit of the medical authorship of the world:

"It is usual to estimate that about one thirtieth part of the whole mass of the world's literature belongs to medicine and its allied sciences. This corresponds very well to the results obtained from an examination of bibliographies and catalogues of the principal medical libraries. It appears from this that our medical literature now forms a little over 120,000 volumes properly so called, and about twice that number of pamphlets, and that this accumulation is now increasing at the rate of about 1500 volumes and 2500 pamphlets yearly. . . . There are at the present time scattered over the earth about 180,000 medical men, who, by a liberal construction of the phrase, may be said to be educated—that is, who have some kind of a diploma, and for whose edification this current medical literature is produced. Of this number about 11,600 are producers of, or contributors to, this literature, being divided as follows: United States, 2800; France and her Colonies, 2600; the German Empire and Austro-Hungary, 2300; Great Britain and her Colonies, 2000; Italy, 600; Spain, 300; all others, 1000. These figures should be considered in connection with the number of physicians in each country, but this I can only give approximately, as follows: United States, 65,000; Great Britain and her Colonies, 35,000; Germany and Austro-Hungary, 32,000; France and her Colonies, 26,000; Italy, 10,000; Spain, 5000; all others, 17,000.

"Excluding popular medicine, pathies, pharmacy, and dentistry, all of which were included in the figures for the annual product just given, we find that the contributions to medicine, properly so called, form a little over 1000 volumes and 1600 pamphlets yearly.

"For 1879 Rupprecht's 'Bibliotheca' gives as the total number of new medical books, excluding pamphlets, periodicals, and transactions, 419; divided as follows, viz.: France, 187; Germany, 110; England, 43; Italy, 32; United States, 21; all others, 26. These figures are, however, too small, and especially so as regards Great Britain and the United States. The Index Medicus for the same year shows by analysis that the total number of medical books and pamphlets, excluding periodicals and transactions, was 1643, divided as follows: France, 541; Germany, 364; United States, 310; Great Britain, 182; all others, 246. This does not include the inaugural theses, of which 693 were published in France alone."

THE AGE OF SCHOOL READERS.

THIS is certainly the golden era of school-books. When we recall the hideous, depressing text-books of our childhood, we long almost to live over again our youth, merely for the pleasure of conquering our "3 Rs," from the beautiful specimens of bookmaking which are superseding our superannuated friends. That there is nothing so contagious as a good example, is proved by the Messrs. J. B. Lippincott & Co.'s announcement of a new series of readers of their own, which they claim as "the latest and the best." The first assertion is beyond dispute, the second we will only modify slightly, placing the series alongside of "the best," where without doubt it belongs. Typographically the books are all that can be desired. In their arrangement they have unique features, which may specially recommend them over those of other series. This however depends upon the wants and judgment of the teacher. Our province is simply to describe, and we do it, in this case, con amore. The title is "Lippincott's Popular Series of Readers," by Marcius Willson. Four books have already been issued, and a fifth, together with a supplementary volume designed both as a reader and speaker, are promised. The First and Second Readers are for very young pupils, and consist of simple exercises in conversational style, teaching the child to not only read, but to write and count. A prominent feature of the series is developed in the Second Reader, and carried through the Third, Fourth, and Fifth, in the nature of what is called a "continuous narrative, which is in fact, a pleasing story of some young people from childhood upwards, serving in its great variety of scenes and incidents as a pleasing avenue to knowledge. Although the chief interest centres in the characters, each chapter is devoted to some particular theme or subject and is complete in itself, so a pupil can begin anywhere in the series with interest and advantage; selections and adaptations in prose and verse from prominent writers are also interwoven with the story. The volumes floors are devoted to the storing of the great stock of books, stationery, etc., which the re-are carefully graded, and have plenty of exercises, both oral and written, and a liberal display of first-class illustrations.

Another illustration of the force of example, and one of the "best" and most progressive of the many progressive readers is Monteith's "Popular Science Reader," for intermediate classes, just published by Messrs. A. S. Barnes & Co., comprising most interesting lessons, and selections in natural philosophy, botany, and natural history from celebrated writers, with black-board drawings and written exercises. It is beautifully printed and in illustrations up to the age, and has many novel features of arrangement.

WALT WHITMAN IN BOSTON.

THE author of "Leaves of Grass," says the Boston Herald of Aug. 21, "arrived in Boston yesterday, and will stop here for a short time overseeing the composition and proof-reading of the new and complete one-volume edition of his poems to be issued by J. R. Osgood & Co. this fall. This forthcoming edition, while comprehending all the old poems, will not only contain many pieces never before printed, but will be essentially a new volume. The consecutiveness and relative order and proportion of the poems—the writer's most important points, which he has had in view from the beginning—will now for the first time be fulfilled. We understand that the poet has not seen his way clear to leave out any of his former pieces, but that all are to be included in this edition. It is said that he himself considers the whole collection as curiously turning on the secession war, 'as a wheel on its axle turns.' The 'old gray,' now in his 63d year, is yet under the influence of the paralytic shocks that befell him 10 years since. Still he gets around singularly well, having travelled many thousand miles the last three years, and during that time has explored the Rocky Mountains, the great plains, and the Canadian and St. Lawrence regions. He makes much of the kindness he everywhere finds in these travels, especially from transportation men and journalists. Mr. Whitman, though going out of town portions of the time, while attending to his book will, as we understand, have his Boston headquarters at J. R. Osgood & Co.'s, Tremont Street, and may be addressed there."

SIR WILLIAM COLLINS, PUBLISHER.

"No event has ever given more general satisfaction to the people of this city, and to the Scottish nation generally," reports the London Bookseller, "than the bestowal of the honor of knighthood upon ex-Provost Collins, head of the firm of William Collins, Sons & Co., publishers and wholesale stationers. Sir William Collins at a very early age, entered the business of his father, then Chalmers & Collins, and eventually succeeded to it. The business was small, but about twenty-five years ago he went largely into stationery, and with the aid of his partners, and more recently of his sons, has made the business the largest of its kind in Scotland, if not in the United Kingdom. But the present honor has not been bestowed upon Sir William merely as a successful man of business. He has all his life been engaged in works of philanthropy, especially in connection with education. A total abstainer himself, he has urged upon his fellow-citizens the necessity of themselves setting the example if they wished to put down the most prominent and most demoralizing vice of the day. Consistently with these views, he, when appointed Lord Provost, determined that no wine or other intoxicating liquor should appear upon his table, whoever was present. At first the notion was sneered at and considered impossible, but soon it was discovered that a good dinner was possible, even without the wine. His term of office was marked by great hospitality, and in this he was greatly assisted by the geniality, tact, and good sense of Lady Collins, who won golden opinions from all who had the honor of meeting her. Another matter may possibly have assisted the worthy ex-Provost in obtaining the honor of knighthood—political activity. Sir William has always been a warm supporter of Liberal opinions. The present members for the city owe much to his activity and to the sagacity of his advice. A strong desire has been frequently expressed to see him in Parliament, but hitherto he has declined to put himself forward."

AUTHORS AT WORK.

CHARLES T. CONGDON will soon publish a hand-book for young journalists.

MR. FURNIVALL is compiling a bibliography of the poet Browning for the new Browning Society.

MR. EDWARD EVERETT HALE has nearly ready for the press a new juvenile which will, of course, find ready welcome. The title is "Stories of Adventure Told by Adventurers."

MR. ANDREW MCLEAN, of Brooklyn, is engaged upon a new study of the character and writings of the poet Burns which will be published in October. Mr. McLean maintains that Burns was not only the greatest poet born in the eighteenth century, but also "one of the best of men."

MRS. JAMES T. FIELDS is at work upon a memorial of her husband, the late James T. Fields, to be entitled "Biographical Notes and Personal Sketches of James T. Fields." Herself an authoress of acknowledged standing, she can hardly fail to make the volume one of much interest and value.

MR. LAURENCE HUTTON is spending the summer in Petersham, Mass., and is busying himself with the proof-sheets and indices of the first three or four volumes of the Osgood American Actors series, which he is editing. Mr. Lawrence Barrett's "Life of Edwin Forrest," the initial volume of the series, is nearly through the press, and will make its appearance in a few weeks.

MR. E. A. FREEMAN starts for America on September 27, and will deliver his first lecture in Boston on October 17. Meanwhile, he is engaged in passing through the press a companion volume to his "Historical and Architectural Sketches, chiefly Italian." This is the result of his recent visit to the head of the Adriatic, and will be entitled "Sketches from the Subject and Neighbor Lands of Venice." We believe that the illustrations will be found more satisfactory than those in the former volume. Mr. Freeman has also nearly ready his work upon the reign of William Rufus.—Acad.

POSTAL MATTERS.

DECISIONS AFFECTING PUBLISHERS.

From U. S. Official Guide, August.

547. NEWSDEALERS cannot receive free of postage more than one copy of any publication printed in whole or in part and published in the county in which they reside.

552. A letter addressed to a travelling salesman, in care of one of his customers, should be forwarded or returned without extra postage, even if it has been held a longer time than is indicated by a return request thereon.

558. Any number of sample copies of a publication of the second class of mail matter may be sent to one address.

559. Postmasters are not required to distribute sample copies of second-class matter addressed to them, through the boxes or general delivery of their offices, and must refuse to do so.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ADA, O.—A. W. West & Co., booksellers and stationers, have purchased the business of A. Welsh.

HARRISBURG, PA.—E. S. German's Sons, booksellers and stationers, have dissolved partnership. Philip German continues, under the name of E. S. German's Son.

LEWISTON, ME.—B. W. Parker, bookseller and stationer, succeeds to the business of I. N. Parker & Son, recently dissolved.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.—Geo. Ellis & Bro., booksellers, have dissolved partnership.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Mr. Clarence E. Wolcott has severed his connection with the house of Thos. W. Durston & Co. and has purchased the interest of Mr. Robert H. Davis, of the late firm of Davis & Greenway. The new firm, under the style of Wolcott & Greenway, will continue the business at the old stand in the White Memorial Building, Vanderbilt Square.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O.—W. H. Wagner, bookseller and stationer, has purchased the business of A. F. Gibson.

AN excellent opportunity for investment worthy investigation by a practical book and stationery man will be found in the advertisement of G. C. in this number.

DAWSON BROTHERS.—The Montreal Gazette of August 20 devotes over a column to the house of Messrs. Dawson Bros., of Montreal, and to a description of their establishment, which recent improvements and alterations have materially enlarged. The firm is known as one of the most enterprising and reliable houses in the trade, and we are glad to note such evident signs of increasing prosperity as this extension of their business facilities implies. The house of Dawson Brothers was established in 1847, and in 1854 was removed to the present location on St. James Street. The enlargement of premises just made gives spacious business quarters in the whole of two large four-story buildings, each 30 x 100. The ground floors of each building are connected by archways, and are used as salesrooms, the book department in one section, and the stationery department in the other. The upper floors are devoted to the storing of the great stock of books, stationery, etc., which the requirements of the business render necessary, while a large bindery and blank-book manufactory, near at hand, afford facilities for extensive work in these branches. Map mounting and die stamping are also two specialties in which this firm is doing a very large and successful business. In the manufactory alone some sixty hands are constantly employed, while not less than one hundred hands are employed by the firm in its various branches.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

MR. W. DAVENPORT ADAMS will furnish a paper to an early number of Belgravia on "Mr. Gilbert the Dramatist."

"THE CRITIC" for this week gives its readers a portrait of Mr. Austin Dobson accompanied by a descriptive sketch, by Mr. E. W. Gosse.

D. LOTHROP & Co., the enterprising publishers of Wide Awake, have organized a Reading Union for American and English young folks. The Reading Course for the Union will be given in an "Illustrated" supplement to the magazine, and has already been adopted by the Chautauqua Young Folks' Organization.

"THE PICTORIAL WAR RECORD" is the title of a new weekly, published by Stearns & Co. It deals exclusively with events of the late war, and reprints the current illustrations of the press during the four years of the struggle. Seven pages are given to the prints, the eighth is devoted to letter-press, giving reports, letters and testimonials that were published at the time.

THE editor of St. Nicholas extends a novel invitation to the readers of that wonderful journal, asking for criticisms and opinions as to the general management of the magazine—which is the best story, poem, picture or other feature, or what readers would like St. Nicholas to give them more of. The editor promises to try to adapt the magazine to the true needs and requirements of the largest number of its readers, so as to make the magazine in future, "not only as good as ever, but as much brighter, better and handsomer as possible."

DR. L. DE COLANGE, well known as the editor of Zell's Encyclopædia, The Picturesque World and other important works, some months ago started a journal entitled The American Gastronomist. He has now changed the name to Home Life in America, retaining the former name as a sub-title. It is a semi-monthly, devoted to "the art of living with elegance and economy," two things to which every good housewife aspires. It covers not only the article of food, which it discusses in its relations to health as well as appetite, but also fashion, etiquette, and household needs generally. Among the practical features is a dinner-bill for every day in the fortnight.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. have sent out the July numbers of those two venerable British reviews—the Quarterly and the Edinburgh—which they began in January to publish here by special arrangement with Mr. Murray and the Longmans. The New York Times finds the best Quarterly article in this number at the end of the volume and the best Edinburgh one at the beginning. The Quarterly's is on "English Trade and Foreign Competitions," and it sets forth in high colors and with many facts the causes which have led to the present agitation against free trade in England. The Edinburgh's article is on "Methodism," and a strong article it is, as well as a timely one, recalling the best days of the review.

CUES TO TIMELY TOPICS.

INDEXES.—The Library Journal for July gives a list of recently published indexes to prominent books and periodicals.

EGYPT AND ASSYRIA.—Trübner & Co., London, have published a "Catalogue of Works on Egypt and Egyptology and on Assyria and Assyriology." Price, one shilling.

ORNITHOLOGY.—A chronological catalogue raisonné of publications relating to the "Birds of New England," is given in the first part of Winfrid A. Stearns' "New England Bird Life," edited by E. Coues, just published by Lee & Shepard.

GOETHE'S FAUST.—A partial bibliography of English translations of Goethe's Faust appears in the Boston Literary World for August 13. The number of English translations must be now close upon forty-five, of which twenty-seven are given.

EDUCATIONAL JOURNALISM.—A fragmentary bibliography of "Educational Journalism" in this country is to be found in the address bearing this title delivered by C. W. Bardeen at Saratoga last month, and published at Syracuse by the author.

ENGLISH HISTORY.—"Introduction to the Study of English History," by S. Rawson Gardiner and J. B. Mullinger, just published by C. Kegan Paul & Co., London (9s.), contains a comprehensive and valuable series of notes and references on the authorities for English history.

HALLIWELLIANA.—Mr. Justin Winsor, the Librarian of Harvard College, has completed in the Harvard Library Bulletin, a Bibliography of the publications of J. O. Halliwell-Phillips, the English Shakespearian, which extends to 328 titles, covering the industrious work of over forty years.

BOTANY.—One of the most important contributions to scientific bibliography is a "Guide to the Literature of Botany," a classified selection of botanical works, including nearly 6000 titles not given in Pritzel's "Thesaurus," by Benj. Daydon Jackson, published by the Index Society, London. For practical purposes, a select bibliography is given in "The Botanical Collector's Hand-book," by W. W. Bailey, just published by G. A. Bates, Salem, Mass.

PUNCTUATION.—The little book by Mr. Marshall T. Bigelow, corrector at the University Press, on "Punctuation, and other Typographical Matters, for the use of printers, authors, teachers, and scholars," which Lee & Shepard have recently published, has an especial value for publishers and printers, as its rules and suggestions bearing on typographical matters, and particularly on the often perplexing question of punctuation, come from one amply fitted by long experience to speak authoritatively on the subject. A reference to this little aid in the preparation of copy and the editing of MS. would save much time and confusion in a printing-office.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

JAMES R. OSGOOD & Co. report sales of "A Fair Barbarian" to the amount of 12,000 copies.

ROBERTS BROS. will publish shortly a new edition of "Theodore Parker's Prayers," with an introduction by Miss Louisa M. Alcott.

J. R. HOLCOMB & Co., Mallet Creek, O., will issue "A Key to Harvey's English Grammar, for the Use of Schools and Teachers," by Thomas Eubank.

CRAWFORD & Co., Philadelphia, have nearly ready "The Lives and Travels of Livingstone and Stanley" and a new 12mo edition of Woods' "Illustrated Natural History."

IN the Educational number of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY the "Manual of the Constitution," by Israel Ward Andrews, is erroneously placed under the name of E. B. Andrews.

J. P. BELL & Co., Lynchburgh, Va., have purchased the plates and copyright of Magill's "History of Virginia," and orders for the work should hereafter be addressed to them.

ESTES & LAURIAT will shortly issue as the first volume of a new series, "The Knockabout Club in the Woods," by C. A. Stephens, which will be fully illustrated and undoubtedly popular.

D. LOTHROP & Co. have nearly ready a volume of selections from Dean Stanley's writings entitled "Thoughts that Breathe." An introduction by Rev. Phillips Brooks prefaces the volume.

A. CRAIG & Co., Chicago, will issue shortly "Nineteen Christian Centuries in Outline: A Guide to Historical Study for Home Reading and Literary Clubs," by the Rev. Lewis O. Thompson, Peoria, Ill.

HARPER & BROS. will issue this fall, "The Heart of the White Mountains," by Samuel Adams Drake, fully illustrated by W. Hamilton Gibson, whose excellent and artistic work made his "Pastoral Days" so popular as a holiday book last year.

PORTER & COATES state that they have printed nearly forty thousand copies of their excellent "Comparative Edition of the Authorized and Revised Versions of the New Testament," and that the demand for the work continues very steady.

THE pronouncing manual, "The Orthoëpist," recently published by D. Appleton & Co., is being adopted by some of our theatres as their standard of pronunciation; it is also being introduced into some of our higher educational institutions as a text-book.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will publish in the fall a translation of "Spain and the Spaniards," by Edmundo de Amicis. It is said that the picturesqueness of style, well approved in the case of this clever Italian, has suffered no diminution, while his subject offered him every chance to make a brilliant showing.

MR. EDWARD P. VINING, a railway freight agent of Omaha, has written a little monograph which the Lippincotts will shortly publish, entitled "The Mystery of Hamlet: An Attempt to Solve an Old Problem." Mr. Vining argues that Hamlet was a woman, who, for state purposes, had been disguised and brought up as a man.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. have for sale a new edition of F. R. Elliott's "Hand-book of Practical Landscape Gardening," designed for city and suburban residences, and country school-houses, with designs for lots and grounds. It is adapted to the uses of small estates, as well as large ones, and to help the owners of them to do their own landscape decoration.

ROBERTS BROS. are preparing a second edition of Oscar Wilde's Poems and a third edition has been called for in London. In England the book has been both praised and condemned by leading critics and writers. It is said that the author received complimentary letters, after the appearance of his book, from William Morris, Mr. Swinburne, Robert Browning, Matthew Arnold, Mr. Gladstone, and others.

A. WILLIAMS & Co. have issued, in a neat octavo, the able centennial address of Dr. Samuel A. Green on "The History of Medicine in Massachusetts," delivered before the Massachusetts Medical Society in June last. It is an instructive volume, and must be of especial interest to members of the medical profession, embodying, as it does, a history of medicine in Massachusetts for more than one hundred years.

D. APPLETON & Co. have nearly ready, among their new educational works, "Appletons' Elementary Reading Charts;" "Harkness's Revised Latin Grammar," edition of 1881; "Shepherd's Historical Reader;" Frieze's new editions of "Virgil;" "Appletons' System of Penmanship;" De Graff's "School-room Exercise Books." Other important works are in preparation, and will be duly reported in the Fall Announcement number.

D. APPLETON & Co. have in press a new book by Mr. Alfred Ayres, author of "The Orthoëpist." Mr. Ayres' new book is entitled "The Verbalist," and is devoted chiefly to brief discussions of the right and the wrong use of words, and to other matters of interest to those who are ambitious to speak and write with propriety. "The Verbalist" is intended as a companion volume to "The Orthoëpist," and will be uniform in size and appearance.

MAX COHEN, of Washington, issue a timely little pamphlet entitled "Garfield Souvenirs," consisting of epigrams and courageous sayings reported as having been said by the President during his illness. It also contains poems and extracts from editorials and sermons, referring to the shooting and the President's endurance. And at the end there is a tabular statement showing the variations of the pulse, temperature, and respirations, drawn from the official bulletins.

A. WILLIAMS & Co., the publishers of "Cape Cod Folks," have issued a card in reference to the book in which they state that the imaginary personages in the story, as a matter of course, have Cape Cod names; but as complaint has been made in reference to one of these names, it will be changed in the next edition. They distinctly deny having knowingly or otherwise misrepresented or caricatured any real persons, and deeply regret that the feelings of any one should be injured by the innocent fun contained in the book.

JAMES R. OSGOOD & Co. will soon publish "The Poets and Poetry of Ireland," an anthology of Irish poetry, by Alfred M. Williams. Mr. Williams was the special correspondent of the

New York Tribune in Ireland at the collapse of the Fenian conspiracy in 1866-'67, and is now editorially connected with the Providence Journal. The collection of the material has been the work of years, and the book will include specimens not only of the bardic Jacobite Celtic poetry, but of the peculiar, characteristic, and original street ballads and peasant poetry in which Ireland is so rich, and of which no collection has ever been published.

SCRIBNER & WELFORD have just received the new Hughenden Edition of the novels and tales of Lord Beaconsfield, to which reference was made in our last number. The set consists of eleven volumes, handsomely printed and bound and published at the low price of $12 for the set. The page has a red-line border, the cloth is olive, ornamented on the backs with a coronet, and on the cover by the late Earl's monogram, tastefully done in blue. Each volume has a vignette on the title-page, giving views of Hughenden Manor and its surroundings. Mac-lise's excellent portrait of the author of "Vivian Grey" ornaments the first volume, and a well-executed copy of a photograph of the plainly dressed author of "Endymion" is the frontispiece of the latter work, which completes the series.

M. FRANCISQUE SARCEY, the dramatic reporter of Le Temps, Paris, speaking of J. Brander Mathews' "Theatres of Paris," says: "I have read this book from beginning to end, especially the chapters which touch the French comedy. The author is thoroughly familiar with our theatres and has frequented them much more than many Parisians. He judges actors and actresses of the French comedy most judiciously. There is nothing of the foreigner in his criticisms. He rather seems to be a Parisian who writes in English to be eccentric."

THE sales of certain French books have been reported as follows: Bouvier, "La Grande Iza," 66,000, "Le Mouchard," 14,000, "Les Créanciers de l'Echafaud," 13,000, "Mlle. NOW READY.

The American Catalogue,

COMPLETE IN TWO VOLUMES.

Compiled under the direction of F. Leypoldt,

By L. E. JONES.

VOLUME I.: AUTHORS AND TITLES. VOLUME II.: SUBJECTS.

Messrs. A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON have the pleasure of announcing that the second (subject) volume of the American Catalogue is now ready for delivery in sheets, and that copies bound in half morocco can be obtained within a few days. They would remind booksellers and librarians who have not yet taken copies, that the balance of the edition unsubscribed for is so small that those who wish to secure the work at the present price ($25 in sheets; $29 in half morocco) should not delay their subscriptions, as the price will shortly be raised to $40. The work forms two large quarto volumes, aggregating about 1500 pages, and comprises all books in print and for sale (including reprints and importations) to July, 1876, with an appendix of the books issued since that date by most of the leading publishers, indexed in the two volumes respectively by authors and titles, and by subjects. The Subject Volume also contains a list of Bibliographical Aids to enable the reader and student to prosecute his researches beyond the province of the Catalogue. The complete work thus forms the only guide to the current literature in the American market.

Subscription price (at present), for the two vols., folded, $25. Bound in half morocco, $2 extra for each volume.

THE BEST COOK-BOOK IS BUCKEYE COOKERY.

One volume, 536 pages, tinted paper, full alphabetical index, substantial binding. Compiled in the most careful manner, chiefly from original sources.

It contains everything relating to Practical Housekeeping contained in any other book on Cookery, and thousands of other choice bits of information and experience that can be found nowhere else.

It has found its way into 120,000 homes since its publication, three years since, and the demand increases every year, as the real helpfulness of the book becomes known. Its merit is in the practical, clear, common-sense treatment of all subjects pertaining to housekeeping. Most cook-books are compiled by ladies who know more about book-making than housekeeping, or by those who have practical knowledge without the power of imparting it clearly. This book was evidently compiled by ladies who not only know housekeeping to the minutest details, but have a clear, direct way of telling what they know, that leaves no doubt as to what is meant. ## THE LITERARY NEWS.

The literary paper is one of the features of the day, and while directly benefiting the cause of good literature as directly benefits the book trade by creating a demand for the books it notices.

Without taking into account the time and labor expended, and the painstaking discrimination necessary for the compilation of a reliable literary journal, the cost entailed by such a publication necessarily deters booksellers from, themselves, editing and issuing such a medium.

The LITERARY NEWS, however, based on an experience of over twelve years' continuous issue, is an acknowledged authority on current books and reading, and the plan upon which it is issued, enabling booksellers to circulate it among their customers under their own imprint, virtually makes it the recognized organ of each bookseller distributing it, and turns a direct trade in books into his own hands.

No better time than the present can be found for the adoption of the LITERARY NEWS by live booksellers as a personal medium. Especial attention is therefore invited to it, in the hope that booksellers who are not now using it will test its efficiency by ordering an imprint edition for the fall and winter months.

The book-notices of the LITERARY NEWS are always selected from leading papers, and are such as have weight with readers, while the other features of the paper make it a welcome monthly visitor in every home and establish pleasant and direct relations between booksellers and book-buyers.

(In the fall of 1880, one hundred and thirty-three booksellers made use of the LITERARY NEWS as their special journal, giving an aggregate monthly circulation of over 30,000 copies, distributed freely among their own customers.)

For 1881 (Ninth Year)

Will be ready in September and will contain over 2000 octavo pages, and include :

1. The Latest Trade-Lists of the publications of American publishers arranged alphabetically.
2. The Annual Reference-List, 1880-81. This list, forming the fifth provisional Supplement to the American Catalogue, and embracing all the books recorded in The Publishers' Weekly from July 1, 1880, to June 30, 1881, with additional titles, corrections, changes of price and publisher, etc., is compiled on what is known as the "dictionary plan," by which any book can be found, whether it is looked for under author, or title, or subject.
3. The Educational Catalogue for 1881 (twelfth year). This Catalogue, which is used by the entire trade and educational interest as the most reliable reference-list of School-Books, presents two essential improvements, viz.: (1) arrangement on the "dictionary plan," combining a Finding-List for the trade and a Subject Catalogue for the use of schools; (2) Trade-list or wholesale price, and mailing or retail price, in parallel columns.
4. The Annual Class-List, 1880-81. While in the regular Reference-list individual books are found under author, title, or subject, the Annual Class-List, on the plan of the monthly Class Synopsis in The Publishers' Weekly, gives references under such collective headings as Arts and Sciences, Biography, Education, Fiction, Juvenile, Law, Medicine, Poetry, Religion, Travel, etc., to all books of the year published in these departments.
5. The Order-List for 1881. This list, on the plan of the weekly Order-List of The Publishers' Weekly, presents, under the alphabetically-arranged names of the publishers, all the books (stating price) issued in 1881 by those publishing houses which are represented in the ANNUAL. The practical object of this list, which will be compiled and printed at the very last moment, is twofold: (1) To save booksellers, as well as librarians, time and labor, in preparing their fall orders for the books of the season; (2) To give publishers who supply their lists at an early date an opportunity for adding any books issued later and not mentioned in their own list.

The above Lists, all requiring unusual labor and expense, present in their combination so perfect a working tool as has never been presented to the trade of any other country. It may be justly claimed that these special trade helps alone will make the ANNUAL indispensable to every one who has any interest in the purchase and sale of books.

TERMS.

The price will be One Dollar per copy net, bound in cloth, or can be sent postpaid for One Dollar and a half net. The price of the volume will be raised after close of subscription.

No single subscriptions (unless by special agreement) can be taken into account that have not been paid up, as the small amounts will neither bear the trouble nor the expense or risk of numerous accounts, bills, statements, and subsequent collections.

Delayed or unpaid subscriptions are not entitled to the subscription price ($1).

Remittances should be made by money-order on New York, or registered letter, as we cannot be responsible for any losses. Receipt for remittance will be sent by return mail.

Unless special shipping directions are received, copies ready for delivery will be dispatched by express unpaid.

The Publishers' Weekly.

This journal, an independent representative of the American book and kindred interests, is issued weekly from 13 and 15 Park Row, New York, at $3.20 per year, including postage.

Its bibliographical department includes a weekly full-title record of all new American publications, with notes after the title descriptive of the book—a new and most important feature, of practical value to all who use books; monthly finding lists, by authors, titles, and subjects, preceded by a classified summary; lists of the most prominent English and French publications; bibliographical cues to timely topics; and numerous special lists, as the Educational Catalogue. This department is the central feature of the paper, and makes it an indispensable aid to the trade, to libraries, and to literary people. It is believed that no other journal, here or abroad, supplies as practical and satisfactory a record of the publications of its country.

Its literary department includes comprehensive intelligence as to books forthcoming and publishing movements, at home and abroad, gathered with the aid of representatives in other cities; editorial discussions on book and trade subjects, as copyright and postal questions, etc.; original contributions and representative extracts on like topics; besides the usual matter of a class journal.

The subscription of all interested in books is solicited, and sample copies will be sent on application. The addresses of persons interested in book matters are requested.

*This journal, in view of the quality of its circulation, and its constant use for daily reference, furnishes, it is believed, the best medium for reaching the book, stationery, and like trades. Advertisements are received at $18 per page; 20 cents per line; terms for repeated insertions on application; Books Wanted, or for Exchange, or Rare and Second-hand Books for Sale, 10 cents per line; Situations Wanted, free insertion of five lines.
